Famed WGN Agricultural Broadcaster Orion Samuelson has decided to auction to the highest bidder several pieces of toys and memorabilia from his PERSONAL COLLECTION with all proceeds given to the Orion Samuelson Ag-Scholarship Fund with the University of Illinois.

This great auction will take place on August 27th, 2005, at 3:30 pm Central in Rantoul, Illinois

In conjunction with:

The Half Century of Progress August 26, 27 and 28 of 2005

This show is one of the largest vintage farm equipment festivals in America. The show will combine a huge display of antique agriculture equipment with actual field demonstrations of those machines at work. It's an event you will not want to miss!

One of a Kind Print Collection

These twelve 13 1/2 x 11" prints are part of a twelve piece collection given to the College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences by Larry Caine, former manager of the International Livestock Expedition and the public relations director for the United Stock Yards and Transit Company. A hundred years old, these prints were made from a copperplate etching process by an unknown German artist.

These were originally presented to Frederick Prince, then President and Founder of the United Stock Yards and Transit Company. Only one additional set of these prints was known to be made, and this was given to the Harding and Harding Insurance Company. Though predominately black and white, a tint of green has been added in the grassy areas.
